

THE RIGHT CARE TEAM MAKES A DIFFERENCE

For women with bladder cancer, getting the right expertise early matters.

Bladder cancer can be more difficult to diagnose in women, and symptoms may be misattributed to other conditions.

Access to the appropriate specialists can help reduce delays and support accurate diagnosis and treatment.

Advocate for the care you need:

Ask for referral to a urologist or urologic oncologist

Seek a second opinion if you feel dismissed

Access specialized care for clearer diagnosis and treatment planning

Specialized care = better support, clearer answers, and informed decisions
